With reference to the Risc PC 9MB computer. Although every effort is being made to satisfy outstanding orders for this very popular model, the benefits of an increase in production will not be immediately evident. However, product supply will steadily increase and orders will be treated in strict rotation. It is anticipated that this short term difficulty will be overcome during the coming weeks. Please have our assurances that your order will be satisfied in the near future and I hope you will bear with us.

Please contact me if you have any queries concerning this matter.

Yours faithfully

Sales Desk Supervisor
